

Employer Continuing Education Course Selection Process

FAQ:

How can I learn more about classes? We encourage you to download our 2023 Journeyman Continuing Education Course Catalog.

Does this course “selection” form register individuals for classes? No. This form facilitates Employers’ selection of classes for their Local 725 member Employees in the coming year. Completion of this form does not register employees for classes. In fact, most classes in our 2023 Course Catalog have not yet been scheduled.

When will classes be offered? We are currently scheduling classes for the coming year. As class dates are set, we will post a registration link on the “members” portion of our current website. Additionally, we send out monthly e-newsletters announcing upcoming training. Please click here to add individuals to our distribution list.

Will some classes be offered more than once? ARPEC will use the data provided by selection forms to gauge interest in each class. Some classes may be offered multiple times and classes that generate little interest may not be offered. Receiving feedback on training topics – both from employers and Local 725 members -- helps us avoid multiple class cancellations which, in turn, enables us to use training funds most effectively.

How will Employees register for classes? Once class registrations open, ARPEC posts registration links on the “members” tab of our current website. Registration is very easy and takes little time to complete. Note that, as per the CBA, it is the Employees’ responsibility to register for continuing education classes.

Need assistance? If you have questions about how a term of the collective bargaining agreement should be interpreted or applied, please contact your respective labor or management representatives:

- MCASF Contractor Members: Julie Dietrich, j.dietrich@mcasf.org
- Local 725 Members: Kenny Scott, kscott@ua725.org
